

“Everything you need to know about Postdocs”

Information session for graduate students

Wednesday, July 28th, 2010
10:00-12:30pm, RGN 2113

Are you a PhD or MSc student gearing up to graduate? Have you heard the word postdoc thrown around but aren't sure of what it entails?

Then this session is for you! A panel of experienced supervisors and post docs are getting together to address your concerns and answer some of the most frequently asked questions about postdoctoral positions.

The panelists are:

Dr. Earl Brown, Professor/Director of the Center for Emerging Pathogens, BMI

Dr. Danielle Fortin, Professor, Department of Earth Sciences, UOttawa

Dr. Susan Logan, Senior Research Officer, Institute for Biological Sciences, NRC

Dr. Elliot Faller, Postdoctoral Fellow, Dr. Paul MacPherson's Lab, OHRI

Dr. William Spencer, Postdoctoral Fellow, Dr. Illimar Altosaar's Lab, BMI

Dr. Alex Wong, Postdoctoral Fellow, Dr. Rees Kassen's Lab, Biology, UOttawa

Everyone is welcome.
